

THURSDAY DECEMBER 4th

9:00-9:15 Registration

9:15-9:30 Welcome address

9:30-10:15 David Sasseville, EPHE Paris: The Impact of Restoring Palaic Clay Tablets on Anatolian Historical Grammar

10:15-11:00 First session

10:15-10:30 John Clayton, New Encoding Protocols for Hittite Transliteration and their Applications

10:30-10:45 Helen Young, Lexicographical Research in the TLHdig Digital Repository of Hittite Texts on Hittite Words for “Palace”

10:45-11:00 Lucrezia Manganelli, Sargon of Akkad as a Model of Heroic Kingship: Textual Reception in Northern Mesopotamia and Anatolia

11:00-11:30 Coffee break

11:30-13:00 Second session

11:30-11:50 Marco Ammazzini, *The Proto-Anatolian Second Person Singular Pronoun tī: A Reassessment of Competing Hypotheses

11:50-12:10 Rehan Muhammad, The Development of Word-Final Stops in Hittite

12:10-12:30 Caroline M. J. Cambré, The Status of Simple Thematic Present Verbs and the Core Indo-European

12:30-13:00 Discussion

13:00-14:00 Lunch

14:00-15:00 Third session

14:00-14:15 Ryan Schnell, Approaching a Synthesis of Monumental Anatolian Hieroglyphic Writing North of the Taurus

14:15-14:30 Gabriele Biancalani, Karatepe Inscriptions Revisited: Geography, Audience and Hybridization

14:30-14:45 Agne Pilvisto, Atargatis in Asia Minor

14:45-15:00 Şebnem Balım Çapkan, Tracing the Sound of Seikilos: Imperialism, Landscape Transformation and Heritage Displacement in Western Anatolia

15:00-15:30 Coffee Break

15:30-17:30 Fourth session

15:30-15:50 Emily Smith, *A Feature Not a Bug: The Multifunctionality of the Hittite Reflexive Particle z z(a)*

15:50-16:10 Eleanor Home, Assessing Variation in Classifier Use Across Hittite Text Genres

16:10-16:30 Melvin Pötzsch – John Clayton, The Etymology of 'God' in Luwic

16:30-16:45 Coffee Break

16:45-17:05 Julia Irons, Hipponax and the Anatolian Palmus

17:05-17:25 Jasper Chen, Sardis: A Millennium of Adaptation

17:25-18:00 Discussion

FRIDAY DECEMBER 5th

9:00-9:45 Giulia Torri, Università di Firenze: Excavating the Manuscripts of the Hittite Laws

09:45-11:00 First session

09:45-10:00 Naomi Harris, “The Sun’s in My Heart”: Literary Style in The Disappearance of Telipinu (CTH 324) and Singin’ in the Rain.

10:00-10:15 Claire Hobbs, New Hittite Rhetorical Strategies of Group Differentiation and Exclusion through the Lens of Fascist Studies

10:15-10:30 Ethan Coulson-Haggins, Hoplites Beyond Borders: Rethinking ‘Greekness’ in Lycian Martial Iconography

10:30-10:45 Philip Christian Höhre, Hellenistic Royal Agents in Anatolia – Podilos, Charmidas, and Lakrines of Crete

10:45-11:00 Alan Avdagić, Egypto-Carian qan ‘dog’ and the development of PIE palato-velars in Luwic

11:00-11:30 Coffee break

11:30-13:00 Second session

11:30-11:50 Oscar Billing, Labiovelars in Lycian and Relative Chronology

11:50-12:10 Fiona Philips, The Archaic Carian Alphabet

12:10-12:30 Alexander Robert Herren – Cinzia Tuena, Idrieus and Ada in the Greek-Carian Bilingual of Sinuri

12:30-13:00 Discussion

13:00-14:00 Lunch

14:00-14:45 Lorenzo D’Alfonso, Università di Pavia and New York University: Between Phrygia and Urartu: Cimmerians and the Invisible Late Iron Age of the Anatolian Plateau (7th – 6th Century BCE)

14:45-15:15 Third session

14:45-15:00 Ashley Cercone, A Game of Mimicry: Ceramic Production and Interaction Along the ‘Great Caravan Route’ in EBaIII Anatolia

15:00-15:15 Iringó Tatár, Drills and Saws in Stoneworking Traditions: From Boğazkale to Tell es-Salihiyeh

15:15-15:45 Coffee break

15:45-17:45 Fourth session

15:45-16:05 Kevin Parachaud, The Territorialisation of the Galatians in Central Anatolia (3rd – 1st Centuries BC) Through Archaeological, Historical, and Linguistic Data

16:05-16:25 Giulia Adelaide Grandi, Tradition and Transformation in Middle Bronze Age Anatolia: Red Slip Ware Ceramic Transition

16:25-16:40 Coffee break

16:40-17:00 Sarvenaz Parsa, Religious Connections Between Persia and Anatolia: Tracing Fire Temples, Zoroastrian Religion and Persian Influence in Anatolia

17:00-17:20 Finn Conway, Lydians in Miniature: New Coins with Lydian Legends

17:20-17:45 Discussion

17:45-18:00 Closing remarks

18:30 Social Event